

► It's STILL Good!
SCOTT'S FANTASY VOLLEYBALL
LEAGUE ON THE HUNT FOR PLAYERS
..... 2A

► SQUIRREL YOGA
CHECK OUT THE LATEST YOGA FAD TO PASS THROUGH THESE PARTS
..... 2

► OCSL 2.0
K-CAB RESIDENTS LAUNCH RIVAL
WASTE TREATMENT SCHEME. ALL
DONATIONS APPRECIATED
..... 3

○ Volume 10 | ○ Number 6 | ○ May 09

Omega Times

Mayor Thwarts Assassination Attempt! Trailer Park ready for Mayor's Third term

Trailer 34 news agency reported today that Mayor Andrew Milford wrestled an assailant to the ground to stave off a second assassination attempt in two years. "The inauguration will go on," the mayor said, in a press conference shortly after the incident.

The assailant, a long term feline advocate according to reports from the Mayor's Office, was suffering from mental duress upon hearing the rumor that Mayor Milford was planning to reinstate the Cat Tax, a tax which for years was Trailer Park, New York's primary source of revenue.

Some fear that the attempted assassination could ruin the delicate truce between the pro-cat and anti-cat factions of Trailer Park, New York. But Mayor Milford quickly denied that there was any truth to the rumor of a new cat tax, and made his audience purr with delight when he revealed his new plan to generate revenue for the village by creating a Flush Toll on all human waste that will be fed into the Omega Center for Sustainable Living. The toll, according to the Mayor, would charge Omega Institute two cents per flush from any Trailer Park resident who deposits regularly into the Omega Institute's pristine porcelain toilets.

"The OCSL uses our human waste to sustain its ecosystem. And I think that we, as citizens of the greater biosphere, deserve to generate income from our generous donations to the microbes living in the OCSL," said Mayor Milford, who proposed that Omega Institute's Charles Waltermeyer be in charge of monitoring this system

"I can neither confirm nor deny my participation in Mayor Milford's Flush Toll scheme," said Mr. Waltermeyer. "All that I can say is that the process is in negotiation and that once a plan is fully devised the details will be transparent to the public."

As for the assailant, no name or any form of identification has been released to the press. The Mayor's Office has revealed that the attempt did occur while the Mayor was alone, and that there were no witnesses to his act of bravery in fighting off the assailant.

Classified Ads:

Big Brother is Flushing You!

Enact the Way of the Peaceful Plumber!

If you think the IRS watches your bank account, just wait for the Flush Toll to see what else they are watching.

Paid for by the Citizens Against the Flush Toll (CAFT)

<http://newomegatimes.blogspot.com/>