

► THE GOLDEN TURD AWARD
DNA TESTS FROM FIRST WATER
SAMPLE AT THE OCSL ARE IN.
WINNER DECLARED INSIDE!
..... 2A

► REACH OUT AND TOUCH
SO NEAR AND YET SO FAR—TURNER
TELLS HIS SIDE OF THE STORY
..... 2

► WE ARE (STILL) THE CHAMPIONS
ROB IN IT TAKES ON THE TASK OF POLISHING THE TROPHY AND LOOKING SMUG IN FRONT OF CHUCK.
..... 3

Omega Times

Oompa Loompas Discovered in OCSL: Deportation Battle Begins

Trailer 34 news agency reported today that Jeffrey Reel has discovered a family of Oompa Loompa's living inside of the OCSL. The Oompa Loompa family, whose names have not been disclosed by authorities, have been seeking refuge from Willie Wonka's famed Chocolate Factory, and mistook the OCSL as a suitable replacement for their previous home.

Rumor has it that labor relations between the Oompa Loompas and Charley, the new factory owner, have become strained. And in seeing photos and videos of the OCSL online, the misguided family fell under the illusion that the OCSL environment would be a sustainable replacement for their previous home.

"Omega is negotiating with the Oompa Loompa family to see if they want to be hired as floats for the 2nd work period," said a compassionate Amina Eagle. "And since they are known for their skills at making chocolate, we thought perhaps the bakery could use them."

George Kaufman however has pointed out the legal hurdles that could arise from offering the family any form of refuge. "Homeland Security would not tolerate this," he said. "The don't even have passports, and apparently came here via a glass elevator."

For the meantime, the Oompa Loompa family is being given emergency housing and are working for meals until their fate is decided. And Jeffrey Reel is trying to raise money for their legal defense, should it come to that point.

Classified Ad:

Help the helpless Oompa Loompa's stay at Omega.
For more information on how you can assist, email
JeffreyR@ocsl.org